"FACE-TO-FACE TEACHING EXEMPTIONS"

The five requirements of the "face-to-face teaching exemption" are:

1. The movie is shown in the classroom or other similar place devoted to instruction. This excludes the library or auditorium.
2. The movie is shown by the teacher or one of the pupils in the class.
3. The movie is shown as part of a regular instructional activity, and the teacher is present with the students (face-to-face). This excludes reward and entertainment.
4. Movie must be a lawfully made copy. Anthologies are not permitted.
5. The movie is shown in a non-profit public institution.

These requirements apply to films, videos, etc. which have been purchased without public performance rights.
